

Suffolk Perinatal Coalition

advocating for the health of women, infants & families

Suffolk Perinatal Coalition

Perinatal Mood Disorders Task Force

Presents a special evening for Health Care Professionals

Perinatal Mood Disorders: Pharmacologic Treatment in Pregnancy, Postpartum, and Lactation

Tuesday, May 12, 2009

5:00 pm - 9:00 pm

Touro Law Center

Central Islip, NY

Seating is limited – Please call to register by May 4th (631) 475-5400

Speaker Profile

Shari Lusskin, MD is the first Director of Reproductive Psychiatry at New York University Medical Center and NYU School of Medicine where she holds joint appointment as a Clinical Associate Professor in Psychiatry and Obstetrics and Gynecology. She also holds an appointment as an Adjunct Associate Professor of Psychiatry, Obstetrics, Gynecology and Reproductive Sciences at The Mount Sinai School of Medicine. Dr. Lusskin has lectured extensively in the United States and Canada, as well as in Europe and India. She has a longstanding commitment to improving women's psychiatric needs, both by professionals and the general public.

Profile of Events

Registration & Light Dinner

Welcome - Dr. Humayun Chaudhry, DO, MS Suffolk County Commissioner of Health Services

Speaker - Shari Lusskin, MD

Questions and Answer Session

Dr. Lusskin will present Postpartum Support International's certification of completion course.

Special thanks to the Postpartum Resource Center of New York and the dedicated members of the SPC Perinatal Mood Disorders Task Force. This FREE seminar has been made possible through the New York State Department of Health Bureau of Women's Service and Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) Downstate Healthy Start Program.

